ESL Role Play Cards for Adults

Twelve real-life scenarios from A1 to C1, from checking in at a hotel to asking for a raise. Each role has a goal the other player does not see, so students have to ask, explain and negotiate to reach a deal.

LEVEL	STUDENTS	GROUPING	TIME
A1 to C1	Adults and older teens	Pairs	10 to 15 minutes each

Before class

1 Print
The pages for your students' level. Each page holds three scenarios.

2 Cut
Along the dashed lines. Keep the A and B cards of each scenario together.

3 Pick
One scenario per pair. Pairs at different levels can play different ones.

4 Hand out
Role A to one student, Role B to the other. Cards stay face down until you start.

How to run a role play

STEP 1 · 2 MIN

Read alone

Each student reads their card silently and underlines one phrase to use. Nobody shows their card or reads the goal aloud.

STEP 2 · 5 TO 8 MIN

Talk to a deal

Pairs talk until they agree or the time runs out. The secret goals clash, so nobody gets everything: they have to give something to get something.

STEP 3 · 3 MIN

Report and swap

Each pair tells the class what they agreed and who gave up what. Then they swap roles, or take a new scenario at the same level.

Language for the task

ASKING

Would it be possible to...?
What if we...?
Could you explain why...?

BUYING TIME

Let me think about that.
That's a good question.
Give me a second.

AGREEING

That sounds fair.
Shall we meet halfway?
OK, it's a deal.

Give feedback after, not during

NOTE THESE, FIX THEM AFTER

~~I want refund.~~ → I'd like a refund, please.

~~You must give me a discount.~~ → Could you do a better price?

~~No. Is not possible.~~ → I'm afraid that's not possible.

LET THESE GO

Articles and small tense slips in the middle of a deal.

Stopping a negotiation for an article costs the conversation more than the slip does. Tone is the point here: too direct sounds rude in English.

01 · A1-A2 — ROLE A

Signing up for a class

You are the student.

You want to start a beginner cooking class at the community centre. You are at the front desk.

YOUR GOAL · KEEP IT SECRET

You work every weekday until 6 p.m., so you can only come at weekends.

USEFUL PHRASES

→ I'd like to sign up for...
→ Is there a class on Saturday?
→ How much is it?

01 · A1-A2 — ROLE B

Signing up for a class

You are the receptionist.

You work at the front desk of a community centre. A new student wants to join a cooking class.

YOUR GOAL · KEEP IT SECRET

The Saturday class is full. There is a Tuesday class at 7 p.m. and an online class any time.

USEFUL PHRASES

→ Which class would you like?
→ Sorry, that class is full.
→ What about...?

02 · A1-A2 — ROLE A

Checking in at a hotel

You are the guest.

You arrive at your hotel after a long trip. You booked a double room for three nights.

YOUR GOAL · KEEP IT SECRET

Your booking says sea view. You want that room, and you don't want to pay more.

USEFUL PHRASES

→ I have a booking for...
→ My booking says...
→ Can I see the room first?

02 · A1-A2 — ROLE B

Checking in at a hotel

You are the receptionist.

A guest is checking in. You check the computer.

YOUR GOAL · KEEP IT SECRET

The system shows a double room without a view. The last sea view room costs 20 euros more a night.

USEFUL PHRASES

→ Can I see your passport, please?
→ I'm sorry, but...
→ I can offer you...

03 · A2-B1 — ROLE A

At the doctor's

You are the patient.

You have had a headache for a week. You are at the doctor's.

YOUR GOAL · KEEP IT SECRET

You want antibiotics and a note for five days off work.

USEFUL PHRASES

→ I've had a headache for...
→ It hurts when...
→ Could you give me...?

03 · A2-B1 — ROLE B

At the doctor's

You are the doctor.

A patient comes in with a headache.

YOUR GOAL · KEEP IT SECRET

You think it is stress and too much screen time. You can give two days off, but no antibiotics.

USEFUL PHRASES

→ How long have you had it?
→ Do you sleep well?
→ I'd recommend...

04 · A2-B1 — ROLE A

Small talk at a party

You are the guest.

You are at a friend's birthday party. You don't know anybody here.

YOUR GOAL · KEEP IT SECRET

You are looking for a job in marketing. Find out what the other guest does and get their contact.

USEFUL PHRASES

→ So how do you know...?
→ What do you do?
→ That sounds interesting!

04 · A2-B1 — ROLE B

Small talk at a party

You are the guest.

You are at a friend's birthday party. Another guest starts talking to you.

YOUR GOAL · KEEP IT SECRET

You work in marketing, but you don't want to talk about work tonight. Your last train is in 20 minutes.

USEFUL PHRASES

→ Nice to meet you.
→ Anyway...
→ I'm afraid I have to go soon.

05 · A2-B1 — ROLE A

Returning headphones

You are the customer.

You bought headphones in this shop three weeks ago. The left side has stopped working.

YOUR GOAL · KEEP IT SECRET

You want your money back. You have lost the receipt, but you paid by card.

USEFUL PHRASES

→ I bought these here three weeks ago.
→ They don't work.
→ I'd like a refund, please.

05 · A2-B1 — ROLE B

Returning headphones

You are the shop assistant.

A customer brings back a pair of headphones.

YOUR GOAL · KEEP IT SECRET

You can't give a refund without a receipt. You can repair them (two weeks) or swap them if the customer can prove the purchase.

USEFUL PHRASES

→ Do you have the receipt?
→ I'm afraid we can't...
→ What we can do is...

06 · A2-B1 — ROLE A

A call on a noisy train

You are the host.

You are having a dinner party on Saturday. You call a friend to give them the details.

YOUR GOAL · KEEP IT SECRET

Your friend must know the address (14 Mill Lane, flat 3), the time (7.30) and to bring a dessert.

USEFUL PHRASES

→ It's at 14 Mill Lane.
→ Let me spell that.
→ Did you get that?

06 · A2-B1 — ROLE B

A call on a noisy train

You are the friend.

A friend calls you about a dinner party. You are on a very noisy train.

YOUR GOAL · KEEP IT SECRET

You keep missing words. Don't guess: check the address, the time and what to bring.

USEFUL PHRASES

→ Sorry, could you say that again?
→ Did you say 7.30 or 7.13?
→ So that's flat 3, right?

07 · B1-B2 — ROLE A

Viewing a flat

You are the tenant.

You are viewing a one-bedroom flat. The rent is 950 euros a month.

YOUR GOAL · KEEP IT SECRET

You want the rent 100 euros lower, you want to move in in two weeks, and you have a cat.

USEFUL PHRASES

→ Is the rent negotiable?
→ Would it be possible to...?
→ What about pets?

07 · B1-B2 — ROLE B

Viewing a flat

You are the landlord.

You are showing your flat to a possible tenant.

YOUR GOAL · KEEP IT SECRET

Two other people are interested. Pets are not in the contract, but you might allow one for a higher deposit. You want a 12-month contract.

USEFUL PHRASES

→ The rent includes...
→ I've had a lot of interest.
→ I could agree to that if...

08 · B1-B2 — ROLE A

The heating has broken

You are the tenant.

It is November. The heating in your flat stopped working three days ago. You call the building manager.

YOUR GOAL · KEEP IT SECRET

You want it fixed today. You work from home and the flat is very cold.

USEFUL PHRASES

→ I'm calling about...
→ It's been three days.
→ I really need it fixed by...

08 · B1-B2 — ROLE B

The heating has broken

You are the building manager.

A tenant calls about a problem in their flat.

YOUR GOAL · KEEP IT SECRET

The plumber can't come until Monday. You can bring an electric heater today.

USEFUL PHRASES

→ Can you describe the problem?
→ The earliest we can do is...
→ In the meantime, I can...

09 · B1-B2 — ROLE A

Ordering coffee beans

You are the café owner.

You run a small café. You are meeting a new coffee supplier.

YOUR GOAL · KEEP IT SECRET

You want a 15% discount. You can only pay at the end of each month.

USEFUL PHRASES

→ What's the best price you can do?
→ That's a bit more than we expected.
→ Could you meet us halfway?

09 · B1-B2 — ROLE B

Ordering coffee beans

You are the supplier.

You sell coffee beans to cafés. A café owner wants to order.

YOUR GOAL · KEEP IT SECRET

You can give 10%, or 15% if they sign a six-month contract. You prefer payment on delivery.

USEFUL PHRASES

→ Our standard price is...
→ I could offer...
→ That would depend on...

10 · B2-C1 — ROLE A

Asking for a raise

You are the employee.

You have taken on the work of two colleagues who left this year. You have a meeting with your manager.

YOUR GOAL · KEEP IT SECRET

You want a 10% raise. You have an offer from another company, but you would prefer to stay.

USEFUL PHRASES

→ I'd like to discuss my salary.
→ Since March, I've been...
→ What would it take to...?

10 · B2-C1 — ROLE B

Asking for a raise

You are the manager.

A member of your team has asked for a meeting.

YOUR GOAL · KEEP IT SECRET

The salary budget is frozen until January. You can offer a new job title, a training budget or an extra day working from home.

USEFUL PHRASES

→ I really value your work.
→ My hands are tied until...
→ What I can do right now is...

11 · B2-C1 — ROLE A

Feedback to a colleague

You are the team lead.

One of your team's reports has been late three times this month, with mistakes in the numbers.

YOUR GOAL · KEEP IT SECRET

Get your colleague to agree to a plan, without starting an argument.

USEFUL PHRASES

→ I wanted to talk about...
→ I've noticed that...
→ How can I help?

11 · B2-C1 — ROLE B

Feedback to a colleague

You are the colleague.

Your team lead has asked for a quick chat.

YOUR GOAL · KEEP IT SECRET

You have been doing a sick colleague's work as well as yours for a month. You feel nobody has noticed.

USEFUL PHRASES

→ That's not entirely fair.
→ What you might not know is...
→ I'd appreciate it if...

12 · B2-C1 — ROLE A

Not renewing a contract

You are the manager.

You manage a small team. A colleague's six-month contract ends next month.

YOUR GOAL · KEEP IT SECRET

The company will not renew it. Explain clearly and kindly, and offer a reference.

USEFUL PHRASES

→ I have some difficult news.
→ The decision has been made to...
→ What I can offer is...

12 · B2-C1 — ROLE B

Not renewing a contract

You are the employee.

Your manager has asked to see you. Your six-month contract ends next month.

YOUR GOAL · KEEP IT SECRET

You were going to ask for a permanent contract today. You want to know why, and what happens next.

USEFUL PHRASES

→ Can I ask why?
→ Was it something I did?
→ What happens next?