ACTIVITY 4 · MODAL VERBS · B1-B2

Dear Holly: A Holiday Problem Page

Alone or in pairs · 25 minutes · Answers on page 7 should / ought to: good advice. must: a strong rule or strong advice. have to: it is necessary. mustn't: don't do it! don't have to: it isn't necessary, you can choose. No to after must and should: You must go.

Dear Holly,

Every December I spend too much. Last year I put €900 on my credit card and paid it back in April. This year I want to be careful, but my family expects big presents. What should I do?

Marek

Dear Holly,

My husband's parents are staying with us for a whole week over Christmas. They're lovely, but our apartment is small and I work from home until the 23rd. How can I survive?

Ana

Dear Holly,

Our team is doing Secret Santa with a €20 limit, and I picked my boss. I don't know her well. Do I have to buy something serious, or is a funny gift OK?

Daniel

A You are Holly. Answer one letter in four sentences. Use three modals from the box.

MODALS

should · shouldn't · ought to · must · have to · don't have to · could · might want to

Dear _____ ,

B Circle mustn't or don't have to.

1. It's Secret Santa, so you mustn't / don't have to buy a present for everybody. You buy one.
2. The limit is €20. You mustn't / don't have to spend €60 on one present.
3. The cake is a surprise. You mustn't / don't have to tell Grandma about it.
4. Dinner is at my parents' house this year, so we mustn't / don't have to cook.
5. The office is closed on the 24th, so I mustn't / don't have to go to work.
6. The kids are asleep. You mustn't / don't have to make any noise with the presents.

In pairs. Swap your answers to the letters. Whose advice is more useful, and why?

ACTIVITY 5 · CONDITIONALS · B2-C1

The Christmas Eve That Went Wrong

Alone, then in pairs · 25 minutes · Answers on page 7

> Tom and Elena hosted Christmas Eve dinner for ten people. Tom forgot to buy the fish on the 23rd, so he went to the market on the morning of the 24th. The line was an hour long, so he came home late. To save time, Elena turned the oven up to the maximum, and the potatoes burned. The smoke alarm went off and woke the baby. In the end, they ordered pizza for everybody. Now pizza on Christmas Eve is their family tradition.

Third conditional, an unreal past: If + had + past participle, would have + past participle. Second conditional, an unreal present or future: If + past simple, would + verb. No would in the if part.

A Finish the chain. Each result is the next condition.

1. If Tom hadn't forgotten the fish,
   he wouldn't have gone to the market on the 24th.
2. If the line hadn't been so long,
3. If he had come home on time,
4. If Elena hadn't turned the oven up,
5. If the potatoes hadn't burned,
6. If the smoke alarm hadn't gone off,

B Answer in a full sentence: If my guests arrived early, I'd …

7. What would you do if your guests arrived two hours early?
8. What would you do if a relative gave you a present you really didn't like?
9. What would you do if you could skip the big family dinner this year and nobody would mind?
10. What would you do if the turkey was still frozen at 10 a.m. on December 24?

C C1: a past cause with a result now. Write two mixed conditionals.

If the potatoes hadn't burned, pizza wouldn't be their tradition now.
